

APPLICABLE LAW

IC 35-42-1-1 (1)

A person who knowingly or intentionally kills another human being commits murder, a felony.

IC 35-42-1-4 (c)

A person who kills another human being while committing or attempting to commit a Class C or Class D felony that inherently poses a risk of serious bodily injury commits involuntary manslaughter, a Class C felony.

IC 35-42-1-5

A person who recklessly kills another human being commits reckless homicide, a Class C felony.

IC 35-42-2-5

- (a) As used in this section, "overpass" means a bridge or other structure designed to carry vehicular or pedestrian traffic over any roadway, railroad track, or waterway.
- (b) A person who knowingly, intentionally, or recklessly:
 - (1) drops, causes to drop, or throws an object from an overpass; or
 - (2) with intent that the object fall, places on an overpass an object that falls off the overpass; causing bodily injury to another person commits overpass mischief, a Class C felony. However, the offense is a Class B felony if it results in serious bodily injury to another person.

IC 35-47-4-3 (b)

A person who knowingly or intentionally points a firearm at another person commits a Class D felony. However, the offense is a Class A misdemeanor if the firearm was not loaded.

IC 35-41-5-1(a)

A person attempts to commit a crime when, acting with the culpability required for commission of the crime, he engages in conduct that constitutes a substantial step toward commission of the crime. An attempt to commit a crime is a felony or misdemeanor of the same class as the crime attempted. However, an attempt to commit murder is a Class A felony.

IC 35-36-2-3

In all cases in which the defense of insanity is interposed, the jury (or the court if tried by it) shall find whether the defendant is:

- (1) guilty;
- (2) not guilty;
- (3) not responsible by reason of insanity at the time of the crime; or
- (4) guilty but mentally ill at the time of the crime.

IC 35-36-2-2 (This statute is presented in its entirety for informational purposes; due to mock trial limitations, paragraphs (b)-(d) of this statute will be ignored.)

- (a) At the trial of a criminal case in which the defendant intends to interpose the defense of insanity, evidence may be introduced to prove the defendant's sanity or insanity at the time at which the defendant is alleged to have committed the offense charged in the indictment or information.
- (b) When notice of an insanity defense is filed, the court shall appoint two (2) or three (3) competent disinterested psychiatrists, psychologists endorsed by the state psychology board as health service providers in psychology, or physicians, at least one (1) of whom must be a psychiatrist, to examine the defendant and to testify at the trial. This testimony shall follow the presentation of the evidence for the prosecution and for the defense, including testimony of any medical experts employed by the state or by the defense.
- (c) If a defendant does not adequately communicate, participate, and cooperate with the medical witnesses appointed by the court, after being ordered to do so by the court, the defendant may not present as evidence the testimony of any other medical witness:
 - (1) with whom the defendant adequately communicated, participated, and cooperated; and
 - (2) whose opinion is based upon examinations of the defendant; unless the defendant shows by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant's failure to communicate, participate, or cooperate with the medical witnesses appointed by the court was caused by the defendant's mental illness.
- (d) The medical witnesses appointed by the court may be cross-examined by both the prosecution and the defense, and each side may introduce evidence in rebuttal to the testimony of such a medical witness.

IC 35-41-3-6

- (a) A person is not responsible for having engaged in prohibited conduct if, as a result of mental disease or defect, he was unable to appreciate the wrongfulness of the conduct at the time of the offense.
- (b) As used in this section, "mental disease or defect" means a severely abnormal mental condition that grossly and demonstrably impairs a person's perception, but the term does not include an abnormality manifested only by repeated unlawful or antisocial conduct.

IC 35-41-4-1

- (a) A person may be convicted of an offense only if his guilt is proved beyond a reasonable doubt.

- (b) Notwithstanding subsection (a), the burden of proof is on the defendant to establish the defense of insanity (IC 35-41-3-6) by a preponderance of the evidence.

Note that medical certainty is not the threshold for admissibility of expert witness testimony in Indiana. See Kaminski v. Cooper, 508 N.E.2d 29, 30 (Ind.App.1987); Norfolk Southern Ry. Co. v. Estate of Wagers, (Ind. App. 2005) 833 N.E.2d 93, 99.

LEE RELLIK
NOVEMBER 8, 2005

Family Background: Lee Rellik was born on September 1, 1985 in Greenwood, Indiana. Rellik has no siblings. Rellik was raised by Pat and Chris Rellik in an “easy going and cheerful” environment until 1995, when a tragic automobile accident killed Chris Rellik. Lee Rellik was “shaken up” by the loss of the parent, and felt more isolated because Pat Rellik became emotionally unavailable, not having coped well with the tragedy.

Family Psychiatric History: Rellik reported that a cousin is schizophrenic.

Religious History: Rellik was not raised in any religion and says that he/she “tries to abide by the golden rule.”

Education: Rellik is a “C student.” Rellik claims to have friends throughout high school and was popular. After graduating from high school, Rellik attended Ivy Tech Community College and took a course on computers. Rellik did not complete a second course because of “paranoid ideas.”

Employment: While in high school, Rellik worked half time in a BP gas station as a cashier. Rellik kept the job two to three months after high school, but has not worked since, Rellik attributes this to his/her “schizophrenia.”

Legal History: Rellik has no juvenile record. At age 18, Rellik had one arrest for being on the roof of a school. Rellik was placed on probation as a result of that incident.

Drug and Alcohol Use: Rellik claims to have first consumed alcohol at age 13, drinking about once a month in high school, both to be sociable and “to get a buzz.” Pat Rellik apparently urged Rellik to cut down on the alcohol use because he/she was using too much. Rellik did not have any blackouts. Rellik has not used any illegal drugs.

Medical History: Rellik reported having a tonsillectomy in the 3rd or 4th grade, but otherwise has been healthy.

Recreational Activity: Rellik’s primary recreational activity since age 10 has been playing video games. Rellik claims that the games made him/her feel better because he/she could “escape into another world and forget about my problems.” Rellik says it also reduced tension. Rellik said that playing video games had no effect on his/her hallucinations. Rellik plays action games that involve the “use of strategy and have realistic graphics.” I asked Rellik about which video games he/she took to Las Vegas when he/she was captured. Rellik said, “I just grabbed a bunch.” Rellik said that he/she did not pick out his/her favorites. Rellik could not recall what games were in the hotel room when captured. When I asked Rellik directly whether he/she had ever played “Contract Killer” and “World Destruction,”

Rellik replied that he/she had played them, but didn't like them. Rellik acknowledged that the games involved sniper shooting. Rellik then acknowledged that he/she had taken those games with him/her to Las Vegas. Rellik also admitted that although he/she had previously said that he/she never played a game in which the protagonist shot innocent people, he/she had actually done so. Rellik was positive that he/she had never played a game in which persons could be shot from an overpass.

Psychiatric History: Rellik reported that at about age 10, after Chris Rellik died, and Pat and Lee Rellik moved from Greenwood to Beech Grove, Rellik noticed that satellite dishes were left by the former owner. Rellik developed the idea that hidden cameras were installed in the bathroom at the home. Rellik chose not to share this thought with anyone else. Rellik described it as a "suspicion." Rellik had this idea intermittently about a couple of months each year between the ages of 10 and 16. Rellik reported that at the age of 16 the idea dissipated. When Rellik moved again at age 18, the belief reappeared and has been present to some degree ever since. Rellik reported that due to his/her belief in hidden cameras, Rellik was self-conscious in his/her own home. Rellik did not reveal these ideas to anyone until his/her 2003 psychiatric hospitalization.

Rellik related the events leading to hospitalization at Doctors' Hospital in October, 2003. Rellik believed that he/she could communicate with celebrities because he/she was thinking of them. Rellik gave the example of a belief that Leonardo DiCaprio said to Rellik directly, "Are you watching this?" Rellik is sometimes convinced that the voices are real and sometimes not. Rellik said that sometimes the voices instruct him/her to do something, but he/she could not provide an example. He/she explicitly stated that the voices never convinced him/her to fire a gun. Rellik denied ever having any hallucinations other than auditory.

Rellik believed that people on TV knew private things about him/her because secret cameras were recording what he/she was doing. Rellik believed that people on TV were talking to him/her directly. Rellik said he/she followed Oprah's advice transmitted through the TV to take down paneling to look for the hidden cameras. Rellik said that TV messages had been occurring intermittently, and Rellik was convinced the cameras were present rather than it being just a suspicion. Rellik believed that the cameras were sending pictures of him/her to neighbors because "they were all in on it." When I asked Rellik to explain further, Rellik said that he/she believed that the neighbors had been cloned and were out to destroy the world. When I mentioned to Rellik that this idea was not reported in his/her psychiatric reports previously, Rellik said that the psychiatrists were part of the conspiracy.

Rellik said that he/she never believed that he/she had any special powers. He/she never believed that God talked to him/her directly. Rellik said that he/she never believed that he/she might be shot by the conspiracy so he/she was not fearful. Rellik did not feel the need to carry weapons to protect himself/herself from those in the conspiracy.

Rellik reported that since his/her hospitalization in 2003 he/she has been under the care of Dr. Schap at Wellness Mental Health Clinic. Rellik intermittently has been off anti-psychotic medication. Rellik reported that for the year before he/she was arrested in January, 2005, he/she had not taken any medication. Although Pat Rellik would give him/her medication, Rellik would spit it out after pretending to take it. Rellik claims that he/she did this as part of his/her hallucination that people were being cloned and he/she believed that the medication was part of the cloning process. Rellik also felt that the medication had a backward effect which caused him/her to feel worse. Rellik said that he/she did not tell Dr. Schap that he/she was non-compliant with the medication because the appointments were rushed and he/she did not want to get into the reasons. Rellik stated that he/she consciously lied to Dr. Schap about not hearing voices. Rellik said that it was easier to lie to them than to get into a conversation about his/her symptoms.

Rellik reported that he/she was taking Risperdal at the time of my evaluation.

Mental Status Examination: Rellik was seen in the Marion County jail. Rellik was neatly dressed in prison garb and showed adequate hygiene. Rellik was cooperative during the examination. At times, Rellik reported being anxious, and looked quite anxious. On two occasions Rellik reported that he/she might throw up because of increased anxiety. On those occasions, I gave Rellik a break from my inquiries for an hour or so each time. Rellik's thoughts were clear and logical during the majority of the interview. At times, Rellik's thinking was convoluted and difficult to understand. Rellik became especially anxious when I asked about the shootings. Rellik was oriented to time, place, and person. Rellik could accurately name the last four presidents. Rellik showed adequate judgment about hypothetical questions, and showed the capacity for abstract thinking.

Summary of Interview with Pat Rellik: Pat Rellik reported that he/she first observed psychiatric symptoms in Lee Rellik in 2003. In retrospect, Pat saw Lee becoming withdrawn from friends at age 11 or 12. Pat said that Lee thought voices on TV were talking to him/her. On one occasion Lee asked Pat if Pat had heard Howard Stern just tell him/her to do something. When Pat said no, Lee would not discuss it further. In October, 2003, Lee was taking mirrors and paneling off walls to look for hidden cameras. These symptoms led to his/her hospitalization. Pat stated that Lee would not go into a psychiatric hospital voluntarily. Pat deliberately made up a story about Lee being violent and choking Pat in order to get Lee involuntarily hospitalized.

Pat stated that Lee presented ongoing problems with non-compliance of the anti-psychotic medication. Pat exercised tough love by forcing Lee to take the medication. Pat reported that in the several months prior to Lee's arrest in January, 2005, Pat was giving Lee the anti-psychotics each night. Pat said that Lee often made excuses to go downstairs with the medication in his/her hand. At times when Lee put it in his/her mouth, he/she would excuse himself/herself to go to the bathroom. Pat suspected that Lee was actually taking the medication only some of the time, but chose not to confront Lee. Pat reported that when Lee took Zyprexa, Lee did much better. However, due to side effects of weight gain, Lee went back to taking Risperdal.

Lee did not tell Pat Rellik about any conspiracy theory or thoughts of people being cloned for world domination. Lee only mentioned to Pat that Lee heard demonic voices, and those voices talked about spying on Lee. Lee believed that someone was controlling the TV.

According to Pat, Lee also talked about the “powers that be, watching us,” referring to government officials watching us from satellites. Lee was particularly distrustful of the police. Pat said that Lee has never given up talking about satellites and being watched. Pat reported that when they moved to their most recent address that Lee appeared excessively bothered by noise. Lee was upset by the neighbors who played a radio loud in a van. On occasion Lee asked the neighbors to reduce the volume but it would be loud again the next night. Lee was upset enough that he/she wanted to move. Pat attempted to sell the house, and Lee was upset a couple of months later when a potential sale fell through. In the year before Lee was arrested, he/she was not talking about voices. Lee might say, “I don’t feel so good” or refer to his/her head hurting. According to Pat, in the 12 months before his/her arrest, Lee seemed to be in an “episode” 75% of the time. When asked if Lee could hide his/her illness, Pat responded that “Lee didn’t have a problem going to the store, to get something and talking to people.”

Pat reported Lee spent a great deal of time playing video games, up to 8-10 hours each day. Some of these games were “shooter games.” Pat said that Lee generally played a game until he/she mastered each level of the game. Pat said that one of the games it is possible to stop on abridge and do the shooting from there. Lee had little interest in television. Pat thought that Lee had trouble concentrating on television.

At the time of the I-65 shootings, Pat told Lee to be careful. Pat mentioned to Lee that a woman had been killed by the shooter. Pat said that Lee replied, “Oh, wow, really?” Pat believed Lee was genuinely surprised. Pat stated that Lee was never violent. Lee did not show any temper and never raised his/her voice. Pat did find a gun in Lee’s room and some spent shell casings in Lee’s car. Pat removed the Beretta from the room, but did not know that Lee had another one. When Pat asked about it, Lee said it was from target practice. Pat said it was hard to talk to Lee, because Lee often didn’t answer you.

Lee receives $500 a month for Social Security benefits, which goes for health insurance and the rest for spending money.

Summary of Police Report: Lee Rellik was arrested in Law Vegas on January 21, 2005 at 2:45 a.m. Prior to the arrest, but after fleeing Indiana, Lee cut and dyed his/her hair. Rellik was arrested with guns, rounds, cash, MegaGame console and the games “Contract Killer” and “World Destruction.” Lee told police officer Terry Quinn that Pat told him/her that the police were going to test his/her guns and after that he/she took off to Las Vegas because “it looked bad for him/her.” Lee was “responsive, alert, conversant, and not in an emotional, psychotic or detached state.”

Lee told investigating officer Quinn that he/she rented the room for a week. The clerk said that Lee appeared “very normal.” The registration card was filled out incorrectly, either because Lee made some mistakes or was hopeful to prevent detection. Lee paid cash for the room. Lee was gambling prior to the arrest. Lee learned to play three card poker after arriving in Las Vegas and won $40.

Lee admitted to the shootings. Lee described to the police the first time he/she shot at a driver on I-65 and that the first location was closest to his/her house. Lee told the investigator that he/she constantly heard voices that harassed him/her. Lee said that he/she believed there was a conspiracy. One day in July, 2004, when Lee was working on the deck, a piece of wood struck him/her on the head. Lee decided that he/she would drive to an overpass and drop a two to three foot 4 X 4 of wood onto the Interstate. Lee said that he/she did it mostly to control the voices. Lee explained to the investigating officers that he/she thought "if you're going to do this to me, then this is what I'm going to do." Lee told investigator Quinn that the decision followed a build up of anger and frustration toward those who were harassing him/her. Lee indicated that by throwing things off the overpasses or shooting at people that he/she was letting "them" know that he/she had the ability to strike back. Lee said that before he/she dropped the wood, that the driver wouldn't like it. Lee wanted the voices to stop. Lee said that at the time he/she threw the first piece of wood, Lee was actually not hearing voices at the time, but knew that he/she was the victim of the harassing conspiracy because of what was said on television. Lee said that the voices were reduced after doing something from the overpasses. Lee said that when he/she dropped the wood or did any of the shootings, he/she did not want to hurt anyone directly. But, he/she added that "I caved in and did it." After dropping the piece of wood over the overpass and shooting at the vehicles, Lee felt relief. When asked by investigating officer Quinn how Lee first got the idea of dropping something or shooting from an overpass, Lee responded that he/she had no idea and could not think of any TV show or video game which gave him/her the idea.

Lee was asked why he/she stopped throwing items from the overpass and started shooting. Lee replied that he/she had run out of materials to throw off the overpass. Lee purchased his/her first gun on May 3, 2004 and his/her second gun on September 30, 2004. Rellik reported that he/she felt bad about throwing things from the overpass because "it could hurt someone." Lee Rellik told officers that he/she contemplated suicide and bought the gun for that purpose, but later believed that Dave Letterman could read his/her mind through the television and took away his/her desire to commit suicide.

Lee Rellik's Account of the Criminal Conduct: Lee Rellik admitted to throwing wooden planks and bricks from highway overpasses starting in July, 2004. Lee stated that he/she did not want to hurt anyone. I also asked Rellik if he/she had any concerns because the shootings might harm someone. Lee replied that he/she developed that concern toward the end of the shootings in November, 2004. Lee said that he/she fired a bullet through the car door and then became aware of just how dangerous it was. Lee stopped the shootings a couple of weeks later. Lee said that he/she was not aware that Barbara Johnson had died from his/her shooting. (Pat Rellik indicated that Lee was aware of the death from the shooting because it had been discussed one night at dinner.)

Lee said that when he/she put the piece of wood into the car, he/she knew that he/she was going to drive to the overpass a few miles away. Lee did not tell Pat about it because he/she knew Pat would not approve. Lee also did not tell Pat about purchasing a gun because Lee believed that Pat would not allow the gun in the house. Lee hid the gun in the house. Lee stated that he/she left his/her car running on the overpass and took only about 10 seconds to throw the wood or shoot at someone. Lee immediately drove home. I asked why Lee left immediately after a shooting and Lee replied that “I had nothing else to do there.” Lee was not fearful of being caught if he/she remained at the location. When I asked why he/she was not fearful of being caught in view of the fact that he/she knew what he/she was doing was against the law, Rellik replied, “I don’t know.” I asked why Rellik changed overpass locations after publicity about increased police controls and surveillance cameras, and Lee replied it was “to mix it up a little bit, but not to avoid being caught.”

Lee stated that the voices inside his/her head made him/her do it. Lee explained that through the television and the video games that he/she heard voices talking directly to him/her that people were being cloned and that they were going to take over the world and destroy us. Lee said the voices from the video games gave him/her ideas that it was up to him/her to save the world and to help innocent people from suffering. Lee said that he/she did not tell the police officer this when he/she was arrested because “they” are part of the conspiracy. Lee said that he/she doesn’t trust police officers. Rellik reported that the shots were to scare the clones so that they would go away. Rellik reported that his/her motivation for the shootings was the same of all of the shootings.

I asked Lee if he/she would have carried out his/her illegal acts if a policeman had been on the overpass and Lee that he/she probably would not because he/she knew he/she would get in trouble and be arrested. I asked Lee whether he/she believed that the shooting was against the law. Lee said that he/she did know it was against the law when he/she did the shootings. I asked him/her whether he/she believed the shootings were morally right. Lee said that he/she did the shootings because it helped save the world from the clones.

I asked Rellik whether he/she took any steps to avoid being captured. Lee said that he/she never took any steps to avoid being apprehended. Rellik said that sometimes it didn’t matter if he/she got caught, and other times it did matter. When it did matter, Lee explained that he/she wanted to avoid getting in trouble for firing a gun because he/she knew it could cause him/her to be sent to prison. I asked about Pat talking to him/her about the police checking the ballistics on the gun. Lee said that he/she told Pat it was okay because he/she had not been involved in the shootings. Lee said that this was a conscious lie to avoid arousing Pat’s suspicion. I also asked Lee why he/she left town and went to Vegas. Lee said that he/she was “bored with the shooting” and wanted “a little adventure vacation.” Lee explained that the stay in Vegas was for one week. On his/her return, Lee planned to shoot a couple of times in each state he/she drove through. Rellik maintained that he/she did not leave town because he/she was fearful of being arrested. Rellik said that he/she did not tell Pat because he/she wouldn’t approve of the vacation. Rellik added “I thought I was the only person living and everyone else is just there as a backdrop.”

I asked Rellik why he/she took $4000 in cash advances on credit cards. Lee replied “to strike it rich in Vegas.” I asked Rellik whether he/she tried to hide his/her identity when he/she went to Vegas. Lee replied that he/she made no effort to hide his/her identity and that he/she was unaware that there was a police bulletin out for him/her. Lee changed his/her hair because it was “part of the adventure of the vacation, to try something new and outrageous.” He/she used cash for the hotel room because he/she prefers to use cash when he/she has it. I asked Rellik about his/her remark to the police officer that he/she left Indiana because he/she knew things would not look good for him/her if the ballistics matched. Rellik replied that he/she never said that.

Psychiatric Diagnoses: Paranoid Schizophrenia.

Lee Rellik's paranoid schizophrenia is manifested by delusions of persecution, auditory hallucinations, ideas of reference, and emotional constriction. It has interfered with his/her ability to be employed.

Opinion: It is my opinion that Lee Rellik did suffer from a severe mental disease, paranoid schizophrenia, during the times that he/she engaged in the shooting behavior resulting in the criminal charges. However, it is my further opinion that at the time of each of the shootings which resulted in criminal charge, Rellik's schizophrenia did not prevent him/her from knowing the wrongfulness of his/her acts. It is my further belief that the reference to the video games as controlling the defendant's behavior are a recent fabrication as such hallucinations were never reported to Rellik's treating psychiatrist, family member, or the investigating officer when captured.

EXCERPTS FROM LEE RELLIK'S
MEDICAL RECORDS FROM DOCTORS' HOSPITAL

10/8/03 – Intake: patient gets message from TV, is agitated; tried to attack parent today. Parent reports concern of a “substantial risk of physical harm to others.” Parent states patient feeling this way for 2 weeks . . . denies having these delusions before . . . put hands around the neck of parent attempting to choke . . . never happened before . . . patient was fired from job.

Nurse Notes: Review Aggression Checklist completed by patient’s parent – noted “has hunting gun.” “Yes” checked for: acts upon paranoid ideation, exhibits command auditory hallucinations, hallucinating, paranoid thoughts, brought in involuntarily; aggressive behavior within one week, aggression provoking factors within environment, recent non-violent psychosocial stressor within environment. The following were noted by patient’s parent as severe: suspiciousness, hallucinatory behavior, and unusual thought content. Patient started using a flashlight to look into cracks and light sockets to find cameras, but when couldn’t find them started to take walls apart to find. Thinks food may be poisoned or patient thinks may have HIV. LAS VEGAS METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT
ARREST REPORT

X City County X Adult Juvenile

Case # 1879320

Arrestee's Name (Last, First): Rellik, Lee

Arrestee's Address: 301 Angus Drive, Indianapolis, IN

Charges: Murder, Attempted Murder in Indiana

Date of Arrest: 01/18/05

Time of Arrest: 2:45 am

Location of Arrest: MGM Grand Hotel, Las Vegas, NV

Narrative of Circumstances of Arrest:

Rellik had been the subject of a publicized national manhunt. The subject's name and face had been circulated nationally as a person wanted in the I-65 serial shootings that had occurred over a four month period in Indiana. LVPD had received a tip from an auto mechanic at Jiffy Lube on Tropicana Blvd. in the City that the subject and the subject's vehicle had been identified and that the subject gave contact information of the MGM Grand Hotel. The mechanic's suspicions were raised when the subject said the vehicle needed to be repaired so that he/she could "complete his/her mission" and return to Indiana because "people are not who they appear to be."

At the time of the arrest, the subject was in his/her hotel room. Located in the room with the subject: a 9 mm Beretta with four pistol magazines, three of which were loaded with 10 rounds each, 50 9 mm Winchester bullets, a roll of duct tape, and $4694 in cash. Also found in the subject's hotel room, a MegaGames console with two video games: "Contract Killer" and "World Destruction." The subject had draped towels over the mirrors in the room and had a "Do Not Disturb" sign hung on the doorknob.

On January 18, 2005 at 4:30 am the hotel clerk that checked in the subject was interviewed. The hotel clerk said that the subject appeared "very normal" and did nothing out of the ordinary. The hotel clerk noted that the subject arrived on January 14th and asked to have a room for one week. The subject paid for the hotel room in advance in cash. The registration card was filled out incorrectly. The subject purchased a player card for award points at the hotel and so the subject's activities were reviewed subsequent to the arrest. It was noted that the subject did gamble at the hotel. The day before the subject's arrest he/she had played three card poker and won $400. The subject also played black jack, craps, and the slot machines.

After being advised of his/her Miranda rights, the subject refused to talk to anyone except the investigating officer from Indiana. Officer Terry Quinn of the Marion County Sheriff's Dept. was contacted at 6:30 am on 1/18/05. Subject was placed under suicide watch until Officer Quinn arrived.

Supplement to Arrest Report:

Officer Quinn from the Sheriff's Dept. for Marion County, Indiana arrived on 1/18/05 at LVPD at 4:30 pm. Officer Quinn reviewed the Arrest Report and then conducted an interview of the subject at LVPD. The subject was released in the custody of Officer Quinn, who returned with the subject by air to Indianapolis, Indiana.

11/15/04 at 10:15 am Barbara Johnson, a 72 year old woman was killed when a bullet entered her chest while she was a passenger in a car traveling on I-65. Later that same day, a semi-tractor driver found a bullet hole in the rear door; he had been on I-65 from 1-3 pm; a GMC Jimmy driver found a bullet hole in the wheel well of his vehicle near I-65.

11/16/05 a woman on I-65 heard a bang, and later discovered a bullet strike on the passenger side door frame.

11/17/05 a bullet was found on the living room floor with a hole in the front wall of the home near the highway; bullets were found in the bathtub of another residence. It is suspected that the highway shooter moved off of the freeway to prevent apprehension.

11/21/05 at 2:15 am, a car on I-65 was struck by a bullet on the driver's side hood and windshield.

11/22/05 at 12:45 am a vehicle on I-70 was struck on the hood by a bullet "shattering the windshield." A red small vehicle was seen on the overpass roadway and a male/female subject standing on the overpass looking down on him.

11/26/05 at 2:10 pm a vehicle on I-70 was struck by a bullet in the windshield close to the steering wheel

11/27/05 at 11:15 am, on I-70 a woman "saw a red car parked on the overpass and a man/woman standing on the overpass" and then heard a noise and found a bullet hole in the driver's side hood. About five minutes later, one-half mile away, a man observed a male/female lean over the side support holding a gun . . . shot straight down and through the hood of his vehicle, then entered the red compact car and drove away.

11/28/05 a vehicle on I-70 was shot at the right fender with a bullet lodging in the batter. Witnesses saw the subject shoot from the hip, not taking aim.

1/7/05 police receive a tip about Lee Rellik and learned that Pat Rellik had taken 2 handguns from Lee Rellik

1/12/05 Pat Rellik is contacted and requested to handover guns. Lab results identified the handgun taken from Rellik's room as being the one involved in the shootings.

1/12/05 Missing person reported by Pat Rellik. Pat Rellik reports that Lee Rellik is upset over moving residences; is paranoid of police.

1/15/04 Interview with Pat Rellik – Pat Rellik found spent shell casings in subject's car. When asked if Pat had inquired with Lee, Pat responded "you'd have to talk to Lee, you know, it's hard, Lee don't even answer you . . .well, Lee said that the casings were from target practicing with them." Pat had removed a Beretta from Lee's room , but I did not know Lee had another one until later. Pat did not know the Lee had shot the handgun at someone. When asked about the second gun, Pat said that he/she found part of a gun under Lee's mattress. Pat said, "I had told Lee that there was some crazy person out on the highway shooting at cars, so to be careful, but Lee didn't respond. Pat was concerned about Lee committing suicide. Pat had mentioned that the shooter had killed someone. Pat reported that Lee's response was a "look of surprise." Pat said that Lee doesn't like law enforcement and that recent stressors included the detectives taking the gun.

1/16/05 Search Warrant. No guns found in home. No prescription medication found for Lee Rellik's psychosis. No notes or diaries located of sniper incidents. Additional Video games located at subject's residence, ranging from violent themes and strategic games, to race car driving and Star Wars and Lord of the Rings. Financial records show that on 1/12/05, Lee Rellik emptied out his/her bank account of $600 and made multiple cash advances from credit cards totaling $4000 and did not return home. Also on 1/12/05 Lee Rellik purchased another Beretta as well as an additional Winchester 9 mm and ammunition.

1/18/05 Lee Rellik captured in Las Vegas. See Arrest Report and Taped Interview.

INTERVIEW OF	Lee Rellik, Jr.
DATE OF INTERVIEW	January 18, 2005
PLACE OF INTERVIEW	700 East Leeton Las Vegas, NV
INVESTIGATOR	Terry Quinn

QUINN Q My understanding is that they went ahead and read you your Constitutional Rights, said you understood all that, and that's, my understanding, is that correct?

RELLIK A Uh yeah

QUINN Q Okay, that's alright, just wanted to make sure we understood it, and there was no problem there and they said that you asked for Indiana officers to come down, is that correct?

RELLIK A Well, I didn't specifically ask for Indiana Officers, but..

QUINN Q Who'd, you ask for specifically, do you remember?

RELLIK A Uh, well _____

QUINN Q Don't remember who you asked for?

RELLIK A No, I didn't really ask for anybody really, I just

QUINN Q Someone told me something that you said something about.....

RELLIK A Well I 'd rather talk, talk to the persons that do the investigation

QUINN Q That's me, I'm the lead investigator on the whole situation and uh, that's, that's what they indicated to us to come out, so I jumped on a plane so I could come out and see you and sit and talk with you for awhile, about this situation, cause we definitely want to hear your side of the story, and get to know you better and that's why I came out

RELLIK A Right

QUINN Q So I could sit and talk to you, but I want to make sure you understood that, you know, your Constitutional Rights, you can have an attorney, and you didn't have to tell me anything that was read to you, and they said, you were being very cooperative and that you understood all that, uh, do you know what today is?

RELLIK A Uh, I believe today is Wednesday

QUINN Q Yep, do you know the date?

RELLIK A Uh, 17th or something?

QUINN Q That's very good, it's the 18th, that's pretty good, and what kind of car did you drive out here?

RELLIK A Mini Cooper

QUINN Q Okay. So everything else is doing pretty good now, um, I guess we need to go ahead and start talking, I'm going to leave it up to you to kind of fill me in on several things that I've been missing and trying to figure out how we're going to do it and, you know, I got a lot of the puzzle here, I got, I got a great big puzzle here in front of me and it's got holes in it everywhere, I can't figure all the little pieces out and you're the only one that has a key to all these puzzles, did you know that? I'd like to start back when, when'd you buy your first gun?

RELLIK A Um, uh, probably, been awhile

QUINN Q Been awhile, don't remember the first one?

RELLIK A I don't know.

QUINN Q Okay, alright, what was the first gun that you bought, what kind was it?

RELLIK A I believe it was a Beretta

QUINN Q A Beretta, you like Berettas?

RELLIK A No, well _____

QUINN Q No?

RELLIK A Not any more than any of the other guns

QUINN Q A gun's gun? I didn't know if you like one particular type of gun or anything like that, better than another.

RELLIK A No.

QUINN Q No, okay. Um, you bought the guns and then

RELLIK A (unintelligible)

QUINN Q Huh? You understand how to load it, and stuff like that, take care of them?

RELLIK A No, I mean as far as you know _____, no, I don't understand, I've only had six hours of sleep so

QUINN Q Yeah, they said you were sleeping a little bit this morning, before I got here to get to see you a little bit. If you want to smoke, go ahead, don't pay attention to me or anything. Is this your sandwich?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q If you want to eat, we can sit here and eat together, anything you want to do, we'll just sit here and talk and kick it for awhile, okay. I guess, you know, I have to ask you a few of the questions, and I think, I think you are looking to make yourself feel better in a lot of ways here getting this off your chest. I know you've been carrying this around with you for awhile and you know what's been going on and it's had to bother you inside, would be a pretty fair assessment of what's been going on?

RELLIK A Uh

QUINN Q Would that be kind of accurate in stating that it's been bothering you?

RELLIK A I, I wish I was _____

QUINN Q Okay, yeah. I talked to your mother/father for awhile and uh, yeah, he/she said that you guys had talked about the shootings and he/she seemed genuinely concerned you know, about the whole situation. Did you ever confide in him/her and tell him/her quietly, you know, you were doing the shootings, did you tell him/her that?

RELLIK A No

QUINN Q You didn't feel like you were comfortable tell him/her that?

RELLIK A No

QUINN Q No. Who's the closest, are you pretty close to your mom/dad?

RELLIK A _____ yeah

QUINN Q Did you ever think about talking to your mom/dad about it?

RELLIK A No.

QUINN Q Who did you trust the most? Who do trust that you feel comfortable with?

RELLIK A Probably my mom/dad

QUINN Q You want to see what I got, did you want to see that one magazine?

RELLIK A Sure

QUINN Q I thought you might think it's cool. What kind of video games do you like?

RELLIK A All kinds of videos

QUINN Q Is this a good one? Is this stuff any good?

RELLIK A Um, as far as the magazine goes

QUINN Q Right, as far as helping you with the games, 'cause I never really played that many.

RELLIK A Um, _____ magazine _____ - like magazine I guess

QUINN Q Okay, but they don't give you good insight on the games?

RELLIK A Sometimes _____ good game

QUINN Q Is that what it is? Okay. One of the things that they said that you do want to talk to the you know, lead investigator so that's what I wanted to sit here and chit chat with you about, anything that you wanted to talk about, someone told me you felt at times like a lost soul, is that true?

RELLIK A A lost soul?

QUINN Q A lost soul, that's what I thought someone said, maybe I didn't quote them completely correctly, but I think that was they inferred.

RELLIK A Um, _____

QUINN Q Don't you remember saying lost soul, okay, maybe that's not the right verbiage, maybe I gave the wrong type of words. Um, why did you decide to leave, why did you take off?

RELLIK A Well, I had gotten a phone call asking if it was okay for the police department to do uh testing on, on the guns and uh _____

QUINN Q You and your mom/dad had a conversation about the guns, correct?

RELLIK A Right

QUINN Q And shortly after he/she gave the guns to the police, you decided to leave, is that what happened or what?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q I don't want to put words in your mouth if that's you know what happened, I need you to talk to me about it, why'd you leave, why'd you decide to take off?

RELLIK A Um, cause I guess it looked bad for me that

QUINN Q With the guns?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q You don't....do you drink coffee?

RELLIK A _____ do I drink coffee?

QUINN Q Do you want some coffee, 'cause I think they're going to bring us some coffee.

RELLIK A No, not right now.

QUINN Q No?

RELLIK A Well, _____

QUINN Q Okay, okay. Um, when you gave the guns up, did you know they were going to match?

RELLIK A No

QUINN Q You didn't think they'd match?

RELLIK A Uh uh

QUINN Q Why not?

RELLIK A Because I didn't shoot or anything

QUINN Q Because you didn't shoot or anything?

RELLIK A Right.

QUINN Q Okay. Um, now let me ask you another question, do you think that I flew all the way out here to see you and not know that you shot?

RELLIK A Uh _____ maybe, maybe _____ - a little suspicions

QUINN Q Well I guess what I have to say to you Lee is I didn't fly all the way out here because I didn't think the guns would match, we know the guns match.

RELLIK A _____ necessarily that, well

QUINN Q What was it then?

RELLIK A I guess _____

QUINN Q No it's not, you can tell me anything, I mean if you were afraid, you can say I was afraid.

RELLIK A Yeah, I, I really freaked out _____

QUINN Q You want to take a longer nap?

RELLIK A Little nap _____

QUINN Q See the problem I got, you and I got to sit here and talk for a little bit to figure out exactly what we're going to do then if you want to take a quick nap, take a long sleep, we can whatever you want, you're the one that said you wanted to talk to investigators from Indianapolis. I came all the way out here so I could get to see you, I wanted to meet you.

RELLIK A Right

QUINN Q Wanted to sit and talk with you, uh, and that's why I'm here. I'm here for you, I need to, after we get done, what I was going to do, when we get done here, I was going to make a phone call, let everybody know you're doing well, you're fine, but we need to cover a few things. You know what I'm saying?

RELLIK A Right

QUINN Q And the things, you need to be honest with me now so that I can figure out how to help you, okay, you can't sit here and say oh, I didn't do any shooting, which I know you did, so, the thing of it is, you need to be honest within, you know, Lee, you've got to be honest with Lee now too. You got to make sure Lee is being honest with Lee, you can't continue to say, oh, I don't want to talk about that or that's something else. The guns match and it's explainable why you decided to, you know, get in your car and leave, cause you didn't want to have to deal with that which you knew eventually you'd have to deal with it eventually. But what we're doing now is sitting and just discussing it. I don't think that you understand what anybody thinks that you are a bad person or did anything that's horrible, I think you'd find that you have a lot of support from your mom/dad. I'm not mad at you, I don't want you to think that. The guys here are not mad at you for anything, out here in Las Vegas, there's nobody that's you know, upset with you. So I want you to, you know, your mom/dad's not mad, I spent quite a bit of time with your mom/dad. You have a lot of support, you have a lot of people who love you, okay, but one of the things we've got to do, is well got to get through this, okay, and getting through this means that you have to be honest, you have to tell the truth about the situation. We know the guns matched, that's not a puzzle, but the little bit of a puzzle there is, is what was going through your mind, what was going on when you were doing the shootings, that's what we need to know about, that's what I want you to share with me, if you would do that, so that way I can understand you better, and you know eventually we're going back to Indiana, we'll go together, you and I can go together, we can go back there, an go through this with your family together, do you understand what I'm saying, I mean is that pretty fair?

RELLIK A Yeah.

QUINN Q Do you remember the first time you shot?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q When was the first time you shot?

Uh, _____ six months

QUINN Q Six months? Now did you like, like to do it when you were driving, or did you like get stationary and stop or did you just do it from the car or how did you actually do the first shot?

RELLIK A (Heard no response)

QUINN Q Do you remember where the location was?

RELLIK A _____ I mean it's not, I can't really explain it right now

QUINN Q Do you remember the first location, do you remember if it was on like, I don't know, what street, you know the road, you know the south end pretty well.

RELLIK A (Unintelligible)

QUINN Q Do you remember the first location it was from?

RELLIK A Um, probably _____ closest to the house

QUINN Q Two closest to your house? I've got a map, just happened to bring a map with us. Would it be, would it be okay to bring my partner in, or you just want it to be us that's sitting here talking, would that be okay or not. I'll leave it up to you, that's totally your call, we can just sit here and talk if you want, or I can ask him to come and sit over in the corner if you want, and he can take notes and stuff like that, or you just want it to be us or what? I'll leave it up to you. It'll be your call.

RELLIK A _____ right now

QUINN Q Okay, you just rather it be us?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q See I got a map here and where we at here, let's see, it's over here and you live, show me where you live at. This is I-65

RELLIK A Right

QUINN Q Okay and then is that Peppernickel?

RELLIK A I'm not sure now

QUINN Q I think you live up in here

RELLIK A Yeah, maybe

QUINN Q Okay, so if you had to pick one of these locations in here, which ones would you pick, this is pretty cool isn't it, we put a lot of time and effort into making this look right. _____ pretty good

RELLIK A Uh, yeah

QUINN Q It's got some _____ little bit small

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q You wear glasses?

RELLIK A No

QUINN Q I'm starting to getting to have to wear glasses, I'm getting old, so pretty soon I'm going to have reading glasses to read with.

RELLIK A Right.

QUINN Q You say it was around close to where you live, the first couple, you know where, you said that's where _____ you shot was around where you live?

RELLIK A Right

QUINN Q Let me ask you this then, do you remember being over on Brown Road, this was on a house, do you remember that date, anything that was going on that put you over there around Brown Road?

RELLIK A No, uh uh.

QUINN Q Okay, you don't remember what you was doing over there? Let me ask you this, why did you pick that one white house? Do you remember, was there anything specific about the house that stood out?

RELLIK A No

QUINN Q Can't remember much about that house? I saw some of your school pictures

RELLIK A Oh yeah

QUINN Q Uh huh. Looked like you were pretty popular?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q You like the car you got?

RELLIK A Uh yeah

QUINN Q Yeah, okay. Let's go back to Brown Road here, tell me about Brown Road, do you remember the house the white house?

RELLIK A Uh, no, uh uh

QUINN Q Can't remember what brought you to the Brown house, do you remember how many times you, you know, you shot at the Brown Road house, do you remember how many times, was it 1 time, was 10 times, was it, do you remember how many times.

RELLIK A Uh, no, well I'd prefer, like not, not really to discuss anything really at this time

QUINN Q At this moment, you want to get some rest?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q Well alright, if you didn't, you tell me you didn't, if you did, I'd like to know, were you able to watch some TV?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q Okay, did you uh, how's you fell about Ms. Johnson, do you remember Ms. Johnosn?

RELLIK A I'm not sure who that is

QUINN Q That was the woman who was driving in the car that uh, I guess looked like maybe it was an accident and the bullet accidentally took her life, remember that situation, that was out on I-65?

RELLIK A Oh uh

QUINN Q Remember that?

RELLIK A Yeah

QUINN Q How do you feel about all that whole, how do you feel about that situation? Do you feel bad?

RELLIK A Um

QUINN Q I believe you, I would feel bad

RELLIK A Right, um, Yeah that's

QUINN Q Wasn't your intention was it for her to get hurt?

RELLIK A I would feel more confident in what I was saying if I had some rest

QUINN A You want some sleep, alright buddy, we'll get you some sleep then, let me see if the other officer's out here.

ROSS Q Are you hungry?

RELLIK A (Heard no response)

QUINN Q I was impressed, very impressed with a lot of stuff that you were able to accomplish and you went how long without ever getting caught, think that was pretty good, don't you think, how many months was that, you told me you shot first time about 6 months ago

RELLIK A (Heard no response)

QUINN Q About 6 months ago, is that what you said, about 6, and not get caught, that's a long time. Go ahead and eat bud, we won't bug you or talk to you, go ahead and eat.

RELLIK A No, uh. Yeah that's the reason why I'd kind of like to get some sleep. Seems like when I don't have sleep, things come out, they tend not to really come out wrong, but maybe like a little mixed up there.

QUINN Q Okay, and you don't want to have mix ups right?

RELLIK A Well, I mean, not really mix ups, but it just feels like uh, just feels like the past week has been, or the past 5 days, really it feels like long time

QUINN Q Okay, eat your pizza, eat your pizza and uh, we'll go ahead and let you get you some sleep and then we'll talk again, is that fair?

RELLIK A Uh, yeah, uh,

QUINN Q Do you need something to drink?

RELLIK A I've got something. Well since they've already taken

QUINN Q Who's "they"?

RELLIK A The uh.....your with like the Indianapolis Task Force right?

QUINN Q Well actually the Task Force is led by the Sheriff's Office and I'm the lead detective, when they heard that, they told us that you wanted to meet me, and I said well, I'll get on the plane and come right out and meet him, I don't even have any clothes to wear dude, I got on the plane just to come straight here to see you, I don't even have underwear to wear. They said you wanted to see me, so I said, I've been wanting to meet you so I came right out to see you.

RELLIK A Yeah um, I guess that's true

QUINN Q What you thinking Lee, what you thinking about?

RELLIK A Uh, _____

QUINN Q Not much? You got a lot on your mind?

RELLIK A I guess it all depends on how you look at it I guess

QUINN Q Okay explain it to me, tell me how you look at it. I mean I'm here for you, I'm not going to any gambling joints or anything, I came out here to see you, did you get to do any gambling, did you do any?

RELLIK A Yeah, a little bit

QUINN Q What did you do?

RELLIK A Put a little, little 3 card poker

QUINN Q Did you, how'd you do with it, did you

RELLIK A I'm even

QUINN Q Hey, if you can leave here with some money and have a good time, then you did good. Got a bunch of people that come out here and they lose their money.

ROSS Q I've never been before

QUINN Q It's your first time, I've been here before, but I never gambled, I just came and saw the sights and looked around, that's all I did, so yeah. Tell me what you were thinking.

RELLIK A Well _____ - was sleepy, but I guess I can go a little longer without sleep, but since, since I guess everything is done in Las Vegas, I guess, I guess one of the, can you

QUINN Q You ask me anything, I'll tell you. Aren't you hungry?

RELLIK A No.

Excerpts of Transcription of November 15, 2005 911 Call

Operator: Hello. This is 911.

Cline: My grandma's been shot. What can I do? What can I do?

Operator: Are you in any present danger?

Cline: No, but I'm not sure. I think the shooter is gone. The shooter is nuts. He/she looked like something out of Night of the Living Dead. . . . a zombie.

Operator: Try to stay calm. Where is your location?

Cline: I'm on I-65 at the 211 mile marker in a black Taurus. What should I do?

Operator: What is her status?

Cline: I don't think she's breathing. Help me. I feel so helpless. It was such a beautiful day.

Operator: You're doing great. EMTs are on there way.
